THAD JACKSON

Thad grew up in Wellesley, the second of three boys. Until 2017 he spent many summer days in VT at his family's lakeside cottage built by his grandfather in 1929. He and his brothers sadly sold the property last July.

Thad and his wife Patience graduated from Middlebury College in 1964, married in April 1965 and lived the next 2 ½ years in Germany, where he was an Army Signal Corp Captain and Patience was the post librarian. Thad then earned an MBA at the University of Pittsburgh.

Thad worked in treasury and operational finance for several corporations including Digital Equipment. After early retirement (when Compaq bought DEC), he worked part-time for 13 years at Hancock UCC in Lexington as business administrator. He now volunteers as a truck driver at Household Goods and at the Open Table Pantry and enjoys reading and occasional travel, especially to Europe.

Thad's greatest pride is the success of his daughters Rebecca and Elizabeth, who were each early TriCon Mission trippers, graduated from CCHS, Haverford College, and Dartmouth's Tuck School of Business. Last year they each became Vice President in their respective health care companies. He loves being Grandpa to Rebecca's George (15) and Marion (11).

The Jacksons joined TriCon in 1984. Thad has served on TriCon's Diaconate, Stewardship, Nominating, Personnel, Pastor-Parish, and Inclusion Committees. He also was Treasurer of the Metropolitan Boston Association UCC for several years. He and Patience have the unique distinction of having lived in five different towns while remaining TriCon members all the while. The church grows more meaningful to them every year.
